

LITTLE GIRLS SAVE PREACHER.

From the Hands of Angry Mob of Arkansas Men and Women.

Cass, Ark., June 29.—Rev. J. L. Gray, a Methodist minister of Pottsville, was saved from rough treatment at the hands of a mob only by several little girls, who clung close to him as he left a school house before which nearly a score of men had gathered intent upon seizing the preacher.

Gray had been warned to preach no more at Cass, but disregarding the injunction he rode into the town last evening accompanied by his small daughter. He was in the midst of a sermon, delivered at the school house before a congregation composed mainly of women and children when the mob appeared before the building.

The minister immediately left the pulpit and started for the door. A number of little girls, fearful for his safety grasped his coat and clung close to his side until the minister had made his way through the mob and escaped in the darkness. The presence of the children, it is thought, restrained the mob. Gray was not pursued and left town this morning.

ROBBERS MAKE BIG HAUL.

A Chicago Resort is Entered by Two Masked Men.

Chicago, June 29.—Three armed men held up and robbed the people in a resort kept by Victoria Shaw in Dearborn street early today. There were many persons in the place and the robbers escaped with jewelry and money to the amount of $5,000.

Each of the men carried two revolvers. There were five cabmen waiting outside and one of the three attended to them while the other two went inside. Within the place were 15 women and 10 men. The two robbers went through the place, driving the inmates before them.

They lined them up together in a room on the second floor, with their hands in the air. After robbing them they locked them in the room, and breaking the telephone wires, ran from the place. The two were joined by their companion in the street and the three disappeared in an alley.

Three Children Drowned.

Pensacola, Fla., June 29.—Three children of Thomas Suarez, living near Bayou Chico, were drowned. The oldest was a girl of 14, the youngest a boy of 6, and the other a girl slightly older than the boy. They went to the bayou to go in bathing. When they did not return when expected, their mother went in search of them. She found their clothes on the bank. Neighbors were notified and a search was begun, and about 9 o'clock, in dragging the bayou, they found the body of the oldest girl. Searching parties are still dragging the bayou for the other two bodies.

Huge Task.

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease as that of C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach." Guaranteed by all druggists; price 50c.

Pope May Leave Vatican.

Rome, June 29.—The Messaggero today says that if the pope decides to leave the vatican during the week, he is most likely to go to the famous Benedictine Abbey of Monte Cassino, Province of Caserta, Italy, and thus will be the guest of Rev. Father Boniface Krug, formerly of St. Vincent's arch-abbey, Beatty Penna, who is abbot of Monte Cassino. When he was patriarch of Venice the pope promised to visit Monte Cassino the first time he came to Rome, and he intended to go there after the conclave, but as he was elected pope, he could not carry out his plan. However, twice since then the pontiff has renewed his promise to visit Monte Cassino.

That Tired Feeling.

If you are languid, depressed, incapable for work, it indicates that your liver is out of order. Herbine will assist nature to throw off headaches, rheumatism and ailments skin to nervousness and restore the energies and vitality of sound and perfect health. J. J. Hubbard, Temple, Texas, writes: "I have used Herbine for the past two years. It has done me more good than all the doctors. It is the best medicine ever made for chills and fever." 50c. Sold by W. M. A PRIMITIVE SPOT.

Virginia's Peculiar and Isolated Island of Tangier.

In Chesapeake bay, 125 miles south of Baltimore, with which city communication by boat three times a week may be depended upon during the summer season, is the strange island of Tangier, so completely isolated from the usual lines of travel that it hardly seems possible that it can be a part of the state of Virginia. * * * Imagine, if you can, an island about five miles long and three-fourths of a mile in width, with a population of nearly 1,500, where each house is connected with Chesapeake bay by a tiny canal; an island where the population has built homes along one narrow street but nine feet in width, without sidewalks, roadbed or gutter; an island where the women go about with bare feet and calico gowns during the week and where the men leave for their work at an early hour on Monday morning and remain away until Saturday afternoon; an island where intoxicating liquors are not sold, where billiard rooms and pool rooms are unknown; an island where one physician and the minister constitute the professional class; an island where profanity is punished by fine; an island without a jail or lockup and where religion is the rule and to be outside of the church is to be outside of the pale of the best society; an island where public cemeteries are unknown and where the dead of each home are buried in the front yard. If you can imagine all this, you may have some faint idea of the peculiar surroundings of the inhabitants of Tangier.—Four Track News.

ARROW CANYON.

Odd Way in Which Its Walls Were Decorated by Indians.

Thousands of arrows shot by bands of Indians for possibly centuries protrude from a fissure several hundred feet long in the rocky walls of Arrow canyon, about twenty miles from the crossing of the Salt Lake railroad over the Mopoa river, says the Los Angeles Times.

At a point where the perpendicular wall of the canyon juts out about 200 feet above the canyon bed a thin, snake-like fissure runs in the rock. Successive generations of Indians have gone to the place at regular intervals and shot their gayly befeathered arrows upward, forming a fringed scarf unique in its oddity. The arrows are so thick that little room is left for more, and owing to the position of the fissure at a height of 200 feet and under the shelving wall the relics, protected from the weather, have stuck where they were driven in uncounted years ago.

Already relic hunters are visiting the place and despoiling it of its treasures by shooting the arrows out with revolvers and rifles. In the sands of the bed of the canyon many arrowheads of various sizes and shapes are found buried. It is believed that the Indians visited this spot in connection with some rite. Crude, strange figures have been cut by them in the face of the rock walls.

The Last American King.

Maximilian and his followers were shut up in Queretaro. Many powerful influences were at work to save him. Seward also did his best. But he made little or no effort to escape. If he had failed as an emperor he could at least face disaster with the courage and the dignity of a right princely nature. Betrayed by the infamous Lopez, tried before a court martial of boys and ordered to be shot, he spent his last days in the discharge of all the obligations of friendship and courtesy. A false report of the death of Carlotta being brought to him in prison he said simply, "One less tie to bind me to the world!" Led forth to his execution and told to stand between two of his generals who were likewise condemned, he surrendered the place of honor to General Miramon in recognition of his courage. The rattle of the muskets marked perhaps the end of all monarchy in the new world. But the bitterest critic of democracy could scarcely desire a gentler figure than Maximilian's to stand before the eyes of Americans as the last representative of aristocracy and of kingship on this continent.—William Garroff in Atlantic.

Tax on Babies.

Extreme hot weather is a great tax upon the digestive power of babies. When puny and feeble they should be given a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the children's tonic. It will stimulate and facilitate the digestion of their food, so that they soon become strong, healthy and active. Sold by W. M. Johnson.
